CRAFT BEER

Emersons Pilsner (pilsner)

Emerson's Pilsner has an overt fruitiness that begs comparison with Marlborough's world - beating Sauvignon Blanc's. The beer's palate shows a hint of early malt sweetness but develops a lengthy dry finish

Emersons London Porter

The original brew from the Emerson's range, renowned for it's rich aroma and flavour. Firm-bodied, but not heavy, with a creamy texture, the dryish palate is full of roasted malt, coffeeish notes and a sustained bitterness.

Emersons 1812 Pale Ale (pale ale)

Medium bodied, the palate first offers a marmalade-like combination of ripe citrus and caramelised malts before resinous hops come to the fore and lead into a lingering dry finish.

Emersons Bookbinder (new world ale)

Bookbinder has a sweet, perfumy, malt and hop aroma with a soft, malty, fruit and vinous palate that is both full flavoured and refreshing with a long, gently drying finish.

Panhead Supercharger APA

Hops are where it starts for the born-again craft head and Supercharger American Pale Ale is where Panhead delivers. This is an all-American show with Centennial, Citra and Simcoe overwhelming your nose, kicking you in the tastebuds and departing with more bitterness than a Palm Springs divorce.

Panhead XPA (pale ale)

XPA means Extra Pale with a lighter malt base, the delicate hue undercut by a glorious hit of alpha oils from Mosaic, Galaxy and Citra hops. you don't always want your mouth flayed raw and yur lover worked to a standstill. A few luscious notes of mango, guava, lychee and pineapple can be just the thing..

Panhead Pilsner

Pilsner is a lager with a personality. It's famously Czech in origin, but there we've gone for a South Pacific hop profile in keeping with the people who brew it and drink it. Passionfruit, grapefruit and sauvignon blanc characters abound, stacked up on a robust malt base that is partly German, partly kiwi.
